

QUESTIONS

1. Why did the people think Jeremiah was expendable?
2. Even after God has pronounced a judgment, what might make Him relent or reconsider, either for good or ill?
3. What comes to mind when you think of the image of God turning His back instead of showing His face?
4. What would motivate even Jeremiah's friends to try to silence him?
5. What value is there in the fact that the Bible records Jeremiah's (and other servants' of God) discouragement?