

QUESTIONS

1. What did the Babylonians fail to take into account about God's relationship to Israel and what does this teach us about God's character?
2. Should knowing the way God has used nations to be instruments of his justice in the past affect the way we see current events happening today?
3. Why do you think it was important for Jeremiah, like so many prophets before him, to contrast the God of Israel with the idols of the other nations?
4. What religious disgrace of the people of Israel would be remedied by God Himself? Although this was for a specific time and purpose, what does it mean for us today?
